CUMBERLAND SUPERVISORS PLAN ACTIONS

The Cumberland Township supervisors advertised today four ordinances which they expect to adopt at a regular meeting to be held Thursday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of the secretary, Richard E. Deane, Gettysburg R. 3.

The first ordinance prohibits owners from allowing dogs to run at large. It makes provision for the seizure and impounding of dogs caught running at large, providing that the owners be charged for any expenses involved and setting penalties for violations.

The next measure will regulate the storing and accumulation of junk, provides for the licensing of junk dealers and for the operation of junk yards only within conditions provided. Penalties are provided for violations with a $100 limit set on each fine but with each day of violation to be considered a separate offense.

Another ordinance will prohibit nuisances including but not limited to the accumulation of garbage and rubbish and the storage of junked autos. The same measure outlaws the "carrying on of any offensive manufacture or business." It also provides for the removal of any nuisance or dangerous structure. Failure to comply with terms of the ordinance will bring penalties including a fine of up to $300 or not more than 30 days in jail. Each day's continuance of the violation will constitute a separate offense.

The final measure scheduled for adoption is an ordinance prohibiting the accumulation or dumping of garbage and refuse in the township and barring the establishment of public or private dumps within the township. Penalty for violation is a fine of not more than $100 or 30 days in jail.

Brazil Interrupts Peron's Return To Argentina; Will Send Him Back To Madrid

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Ex-dictator Juan D. Peron arrived in Rio de Janeiro today on the first stage of his return to Argentina, but the Brazilian government refused to let him continue his journey.

"He will not go on" to Montevideo, said Joao Lampreia Gracie, chief of protocol for the Brazilian Foreign Ministry who was at the airport to meet the Iberia airliner that brought the former dictator from Madrid.

Lampreia said Peron would be returned to Madrid.

ENROUTE TO PARAGUAY

Peron had planned to fly to Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital, and transfer there to a plane for Asuncion, Paraguay. He was to take up residence in Paraguay until he felt the time ripe for him to return to Argentina.

In Buenos Aires, Argentina's defense minister said the Argentine armed forces would bar any attempt to restore Peron — driven from his homeland in 1955 — to power.

ADAMS INDIAN HISTORY TOLD BY B. OLINGER

Barton Olinger, a physics major at Gettysburg College, talked to the members of the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening on his hobby, "Adams County Indian History." More than 50 attended the meeting in the Old Dorm at the Seminary.

Using drawings and a large table display of Indian relics, Olinger carried his accounts of Indians in this area from prehistoric times to the death last year of the county's last Indian, Lone Star Syphax, a Cherokee from North Carolina.

"Adams County was frontier country for the Indians and they came here only for game and for stones for tools and weapons," Olinger said as he described the rhylite quarries in the mountains from Caledonia to Jack's Mountain and said they may have been used by the Indians for many centuries.

NOT IMPRESSIVE

Noting that the first Indian visitors to this area may have come 16,000 to 18,000 years ago, Olinger said the Indians' that were here from 2,000 B.C. to 1,500 A.D. reads an anonymous note from a taunting arsonist.

Officials believe he is responsible for three church fires in Philadelphia in the past five days and, possibly, four recent fires in Boston.

"You will have no rest until I leave. You will find one who knows what he is doing," said one note from the boastful arsonist, who has ridiculed efforts to catch him.

"I derive great pleasure from combusting buildings," said a note found after a six-alarm fire Tuesday. "Your church check was somewhat of a hindrance, but you should keep a close watch on other public meeting places and your alarm room.

"I was right under your noses and you failed to recognize me."

KEEP LOCAL GROUP

"Now the creation of an overall travel council to effectively promote the area would not do away with the local travel councils promoting their own areas, but would simply give a larger dimension to our efforts. You would continue to do all the things you now do to promote visitation to Gettysburg as a group, and each of you would continue to promote your own individual business.

Olinger read an account of the Bard family massacre by the Indians and said a blockhouse was built near Ardenstville after Fort Necessity fell in 1754. He told of various other Indian attacks in the country, recounted briefly the stories of Mary Jamison, who was captured off Buchanan Valley by the Indians, and of John Hanson Steelman, the first white trader in this area.

"You had an excellent idea here tonight, of establishing a standard bill board, the top half of which would urge visitation to Gettysburg and the bottom half would promote your individual business.

Activities of a regional travel council could start with exchange of brochures through the area, and "work up into numerous activities to promote our region," he said.</

MORE ARRESTS OF MEN WHO PEDDLED DEER

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—State game authorities, who already have apprehended seven men, say more arrests are imminent in a case involving the illegal killing and selling of deer in Lycoming County.

R. H. Morningstar, supervisor of the north central division of the State Game Commission, announced three new arrests in the case Tuesday and promised more before the case is closed.

Arrested were Dale Ross and Aiel Litzelman, both of Trout Run R.D. 1, and Oliver Litzelman Sr., Trout Run R.D. 2.

OVER 30 DEER

Apprehended Monday were Darcy Litzelman and his brother, Richard, and their cousin, Howard Litzelman, all of Trout Run R.D. 1, and John Wicks of Williamsport. Their arrests came as the two-week buck deer season was getting under way.

Game officials reported that least 30 to 40 buck deer have been killed in northern Lycoming County over a period of several months.

"This is the most vicious plot and series of flagrant acts I have ever experienced since joining the commission," said Morningstar who was a game protector 28 years prior to assuming his present post a year ago.

"The value of these deer will run into the thousands of dollars."

According to information collected by investigators, the ring sold deer to families in the area or other hunters who were unable to get a deer for themselves.

Game officials said Wicks pleaded guilty to several violations of the State Game Law and was confined in Lycoming County Prison.

The others were arraigned. Oliver, Richard and Daniel Litzelman each were fined $100.

SWEATER THIEF TAKES NEEDLES

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Clive Manley dopped a whole row of stiches—mentally, that is—when he returned to his parked car.

Someone had stolen his knitting needles, three sweaters and a pattern book from the unlocked vehicle, he told police Tuesday.

The sweaters were going to be a Christmas present "for my old gray-haired mother," Manley said sadly. "There's nothing to do but to start all over again. But I sure will miss that old pattern book. It can't be replaced."

Manley learned to knit more than 20 years ago, while a World War II prisoner of the Japanese. He weathered the ridicule of his fellow Navy officers and he never gave up his hobby.

how the bureau helped them but the used car salesmen could not recall that he had ever sold any cars to tourists. So we adopted the idea of marked money as a gimmick to prove our point. When clothing store owners, car dealers and others found the marked dollars coming into their tills they became supporters of the convention bureau. We proved conclusively that money brought in by tourists changes hands at least seven times before the government gets it all in taxes. But this works out all right, because the government then spends it on defense plants, subsidies, aid of all kind throughout the country and the people bring it back to Washington as tourists."

APPROVE DISPLAYS

He told the travel council, "I know you have the same problem we have in Washington, how can you get the tourist to see what is there instead of trying to cover a lot of territory?"

William F. Richardson III, president of the Gettysburg Travel Council, told of discussions currently underway to establish a "Southeastern U.S.A. Travel group." A panel will discuss that possibility January 14 at a meeting of the Virginia Travel Council in Norfolk. Richardson will be one of the speakers. Another will be a representative from the Washington Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Plans were approved for a display to be placed by the Gettysburg Travel Council at the Cleveland Travel Show March 19-23 and at the Baltimore Travel Show January 12-17.

Members were asked to volunteer to staff the display at the two shows.

Plans were made to have 500,000 brochures printed for the coming year. Bids for the contract are to be presented by December 10.

STANDARD BOARD

Kenneth Dick was named chairman of a committee to study the possibility of a standard billboard sign for Travel Council members. Andrew Larson was named chairman of a committee to "provide support" for Project 70 efforts and to seek legislative change to permit boroughs, etc., to support travel promotion efforts if they so desire.

General approval of the Tourist Guide printed by The Times and News Publishing Co. last year was shown in discussion of plans for a similar publication by the local corporation this year. Richardson said, "The Times plans to put out 200,000 copies of the guide this year."

Tourists who were given copies of the booklet last summer were reported as "well pleased with it." The only "problem" reported was that "most places ran out of copies, before the end of the season."

A group of tourist attraction owners from Washington and Annapolis, Md., attended the meeting.

Delegates said Thant's patience and persistence brought the big powers together Tuesday for one more try at getting the assembly under way without a blowup over the issue of the Soviet Union's unpaid peacekeeping dues and its assembly.

LIMIT DEBATES

As diplomats sat in the General Assembly hall waiting for the 19th session to begin, representatives of the four big powers met in Thant's office and agreed to limit the opening weeks to general policy debate and noncontroversial issues.

During that time a 21-nation committee will try to reach some solution of the issue raised by Soviet refusal to pay any Congo or Middle East peacekeeping dues and the U.S. contention that it should lose its assembly vote as a financial delinquent.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

Today's assembly agenda appeared noncontroversial enough with a parade of speakers slated to welcome Malawi, Malta and Zambia, which were admitted Tuesday to bring the U.N. membership to 115.

Thant began overtures several months ago in search of a formula that would get the Soviet Union off the financial hook without the United States challenging her right to vote. The Russians threatened to quit the United Nations if they lost their vote.

HOPE TO SOLUTION

The secretary-general proposed last week that the assembly stick to non-voting issues until the Christmas recess, then prolong the recess until February in hopes some solution could be reached.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at first said the Soviet union categorically opposed any indefinite postponement of important business before the assembly. That persevered, however, and Gromyko came around Tuesday.

The solution was far from permanent, but it heartened delegates who had feared a collision on finances would result in a Soviet walkout or that the United States might decide to cut its heavy financial support for the United Nations.

While he waited in Orange County jail, police said, confirmation came from Hopkins sheriff's deputies. Yes, a burglary warrant had been issued: detectives had found the finger at the scene and had taken Pehrson's print from it.

Officers said Pehrson explained that he bungled a safe burglary last Nov. 13 in Hopkins, Minn. He said the safe he was trying to move slipped off a dolly and severed the second finger.

Witness Declares He Was "Bag Man" In McCloskey's $25,000 Stadium Payoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators call Bobby Baker to the witness stand today to question him about an alleged $25,000 political payoff in which he has been cited as the man who gave the orders.

There was no advance indication as to whether Baker would testify. In an earlier Senate probe of his activities, he invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer questions.

Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man, opened the Senate Rules Committee's hearings Tuesday by swearing he was the "bag man" in the alleged kick-back deal and Baker was the one who "gave me all my orders."

CITES BAKER PACT

For some four hours Reynolds detailed the arrangements he said were made between Baker and Democratic politician Matthew H. McCloskey to funnel $25,000 from a government contract for construction of the District of Columbia Stadium into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

Baker was scheduled to be called today following William N. McLeod, former clerk of the House District Committee. McLeod was to be questioned about his role in getting congressional approval for a bill calling for construction of the stadium.

Reynolds testified that he gave McLeod $1,500 and told him, "It's time I shared with you."

VERBAL WRANGLING

Tuesday's public hearing was frequently marked by verbal wrangling between Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb.; Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, and Lennox P. McLendon, special committee counsel.

At one point Curtis claimed McLendon was trying to "discredit" and "impeach" Reynolds' testimony and "sandbag" Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who triggered the second round of the Baker probe with a Senate speech last September revealing what Williams called a "political payoff."

Reynolds testified he added $35,000 to the fee for acting as broker through whom the McCloskey firm's performance bond in constructing the stadium was written.

He said the understanding was that $25,000 of it would go to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund. His fee for services as the "bag man" would be $10,000. The arrangement was suggested by McCloskey and Baker, Reynolds said, and was discussed in his presence.

McCloskey, former chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic National Committee and former ambassador to Ireland, has denied any knowledge of such a payoff or kickback.

Baker resigned his $19,600-a-year post as secretary to the Senate's Democrats more than a year ago. His activities are being investigated by a grand jury. After its initial investigation of his outside business activities while a Senate employee, the Rules Committee found Baker was "guilty of many gross improprieties."

GIGANTIC THRONG AT AIRPORT

100,000 people gathered at the airport to greet Pope Paul VI on his first trip to India.

ily genealogical material has been received and read new information recently secured on county buildings of 1799 in a glass tax report submitted by James Gettys. Sizes of buildings, the number of windows and the number of panes were listed for county homes and businesses.

The revised constitution for the society submitted and examined in detail at the October meeting was adopted finally Tuesday evening.

After the ceremonies at the airport the Pope walked to a waiting car in the motorcade assembled to drive him 13 miles into the center of Bombay.

100,000 Throng At Airport To Greet Pope Paul VI On His First Trip To India

BOMBAY, India (AP) — A gigantic, fervent sea of humanity surged around Pope Paul VI as he arrived today, saying "we come as a pilgrim, a pilgrim of peace of joy and love."

After the longest mission ever undertaken by a pontiff, the Pope for 1½ hours, over a distance of 13 miles was encompassed by hundreds of thousands. They pressed against his car and at times seemed almost to spill over it. Police estimated there were 100,000 at the airport and more than one million along the way.

HUGE RECEPTION

It was an enormous reception, in the view of veteran observers surpassing any in recent Indian history.

All around, covering the fields and hills and running forward like a stampede, the vast landscape of humanity sought to keep abreast of the motorcade.

The pontiff, 67, riding in an open white Lincoln convertible, alternately smiled and looked about in wonderment, waving almost continuously and occasionally pressing a dark hand stretched to him.

Security guards on either side pushed and shouted to hold back the crush that often slowed the car to a crawl.

JOURNEY OF PEACE

Pope Paul called his trip here a "journey of peace and love" and of "friendship and brotherliness."

"All men are brothers under the fatherhood of divinity," he said on his arrival.

There was no single incident, although police had been prepared for hostile acts from fanatic Hindu sects opposed to the papal visit to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress.

Wearing a white skull cap, a red silk stole and a red brocade cap at the end of the 4,000-mile journey, Pope Paul walked down a 40-foot red carpet spread from the ramp of the plane.

Waiting to greet him were Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a Hindu who was said at first to have opposed the Pope's visit to Hindu India; and Vice President Zakir Hussain, a Moslem.

REJOICE IN HONOR

"We rejoice in the honor of meeting you," the Pope said in his address to Shastri and Hussain.

Tentative plans were made for the annual dinner meeting to be held at Wishard's Restaurant December 18 at 6:30 p.m.

General fund receipts were $297.94. Expenses were $359.71. Water fund receipts were $1,249.62 in water collections and expenses were $687.94.

President Wendell Lehman presided at the meeting which was attended by four councilmen.

FACIE CHARGE

Informations have been filed by Hanover police against the following on motor code violation charges: Melvin J. Moats, 44, Gettysburg R. 4, stop sign; Paul C. Cole Jr., 16, Gettysburg R. 6, speeding; Hansford Sneed, 46, Gettysburg R. 4, improper passing; Edward B. Geiman 2nd, 17, Littlestown R. 2, speeding; Robert L. Myers, 17, Abbottstown R. 1, reckless driving; Earl G. Huff, 22, Gettysburg R. 4, address on operator's license failed to correspond with actual living address; Cora Simpson, 48, Abbottstown R. 1, speeding; Leo F. Miller, 25, Gettysburg R. 2, speeding in school zone.

BREAK POLICE LINES

Minutes before the plane landed, about 2,000 Indians broke through police lines and surged across the runway seeking a better view of the leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics.

About 2,000 police, on duty at the airport, shoved the crowd back without using violence.

The police used long bamboo poles.

There was a cheer from the crowd as the jetliner landed in the 87-degree heat.

Goldwater Plans To Meet With Eisenhower, Nixon To Bring "Peace" To GOP

EDITOR'S NOTE — In this exclusive AP interview, Sen. Barry Goldwater tells of plans for a GOP summit meeting and gives his views on demands by some Republicans that the party chairman be replaced. Goldwater says he does not plan to grant additional interviews or hold news conferences.

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he plans to meet soon with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon for a "general discussion" of the Republican party's future course.

The defeated GOP presidential nominee said in an interview on his return to Washington from Phoenix, Ariz., that he doesn't know where the summit conference discussion will lead. But he indicated he is willing to cooperate with the former president and the former vice president in trying to bring peace among the bickering factions of the Republican party.

TO MEET IN G-BURG

Goldwater said his criticism may center on President Johnson's course in the South Viet Nam hostilities.

"We're in war there and it's time that the American people found out just how deeply we are involved," he said. "I pointed out that in the campaign and I am going to speak out on it some more."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Roy D. Renner, Littlestown merchant and clerk of the courts of Adams County, has been awarded a purple heart medal by the War department in recognition of meritorious military service. Stars and bars on the medal indicate the three major engagements in which Mr. Renner participated as a mechanic with the 316th infantry. He was wounded twice in action in the defensive sector about Verdun. He also served in the Argonne and St. Mihiel offensives.

Equipment, records and files were moved today from the third floor offices of the state department in the Stalldsmith building, Center Square, to the new office quarters in the $150,000 building recently completed along the Fairfield road. At the same time, trucks, plows and other road equipment were being transferred from the North Stratton street garage to the new building.

Fire this morning at 4 o'clock destroyed the saw mill of Clem Wolford, near Orrtanna. The mill began operation Wednesday for the first time this fall and it is believed a spark caused by the operation may have caused the fire. The Cash-ton fire company was summoned and prevented the spread of the flames. The loss was estimated at between $600 and $700.

Clerk of the Courts Roy D. Renner announced today that Harry D. Ridinger who has been deputy clerk for the last four years will be retained in that position when Mr. Renner begins his second four-year term in January.

Helsinki, Nov. 30 (AP) — Russian bombing planes set the southwestern section of Helsinki afire today in a sudden land, sea and air invasion of Finland. After Soviet bombers roared over the capital in successive raids, the sky, over southwestern Helsinki was red early tonight with the glare of burning buildings hit during the afternoon's bombardment. Finnish defense forces were rallied quickly into action and antiaircraft batteries fought bitterly against the attacking red squadrons. President Kysto Kallio issued a decree "for defense and the maintenance of law and order of the Finnish Republic."

Robert Fortenbaugh entertained the senior members of the Gettysburg high school varsity football squad at supper Tuesday evening at his home on Broadway. Today's Talk

SUSPICION

What a world of heartaches, unhappy days and tragic experiences are the result of suspicion. And in how very, very many cases this suspicion is groundless and the result of mere imagination or idle gossip.

No writer has ever illustrated the tragic result of suspicion quite so powerfully as has Shakespeare in his "Othello." And today many a family is shadowed by some groundless suspicion that ought to be immediately eliminated. Many an idol has toppled because of some baseless report given forth by an evil or resentful tongue. Suspicion increases of itself. Aided by imagination it can attain giant proportion! To be happy and to have peace of mind, have nothing to do with suspicion. No matter how presented, have no part of it. A very small number of suspicions ever prove to be actualities.

It is harboring of a suspicion that causes all the damage. Usually founded upon nothing more substantial than hearsay, the longer it lingers in the mind the greater do its ghost-like proportions increase. Thus do fear and all manner of imaginings take hold upon one's physical make-up. Only by a decisive dismissal of these fears and imaginings does there come serenity of spirit and peace of mind. It is groundless suspicion that has usually started all wars — wars that could have been easily prevented. Unfortunately, these suspicions exist today among certain nations. What a happy world we will have if that time ever comes when any of us may enter the territory of any nation, freely and without suspicion, being also permitted to wander about at will without interference!

Wipe out all suspicion, upon the part of the great nations of the world and there could be written at there are in the most once treaties of peace and good will with all the nations of the earth. And what a lift it would be to the frequently sagging faith of mankind! There would be prosperity and human happiness such as all history has never known.

Just Folks

SOME DAY, PERHAPS

Some day perhaps we'll toss the purse aside

And all the various trapping of man's pride,

And judge man solely by the wit he shows,

The useful work he does and what he knows.

Done with distinctions wealth alone prepares,

We'll hail the man and not the coat he wears.

Some day perhaps when comes a stranger near,

Instead of asking what he draws a year

We'll question this regardless of his dress:

"In what good field has he achieved success?"

Skillful of hand is he to aid mankind?

His coat seems shabby; what about his mind?

Some day perhaps instead of fiscal worth

We'll judge by merit; brains instead of birth.

Beneath the vain pretensions of our pride

We'll deeper search to find the man inside,

And even though he little has to spend,

If he be useful we shall call him friend.

SPORTS

TASK FORCE IN NFL ASSIGNED TO SIGN TALENT

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League has a special task force this season that well could be tabbed its "baby-sitting platoon" to wootop drafted college players away from the American Football League.

This was impressively demonstrated in the case of halfback Gale Sayers, the breakaway runner from Kansas who signed with the Chicago Bears Tuesday night after a flirtation with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League, backed by Texan Lamar Hunt's millions.

The NFL had Buddy Young, the former Illinois and Baltimore Colt flash, to "babysit" for Sayers.

HAD HIS ORDERS

"My orders were to get Sayers in the National Football League," said Young, who is employed by the Colts. "I have been with him constantly since a week ago Monday, selling him on the NFL. At that time, however, I didn't know the Bears would get him in the player draft. I was just ordered to keep him in the NFL."

"The NFL has a group of us doing the same thing with other players. I've known Sayers and his wife, Linda, since he was a sophomore at Kansas. We are good friends. From the start he assured me he was an NFL man all the way."

"Sayers met Mr. Hunt in New York a week ago. The only thing he told me afterward was this: 'When a millionaire opens the door for you, you get a little bit scared.'"

Halas, at a news conference during which films were shown of some of Sayers' great runs for Kansas, said that Young "had a lot to do with the signing of Sayers."

EAGLES EDGE CANNERS FOR SECOND WIN

A pair of foul conversions by Tom Myers with 21 seconds of play remaining gave Bermudian Springs a 42-40 decision over Biglerville Tuesday evening on the winner's floor.

It was the second victory in as many starts for Glenn Gruver's Eagles and both were over Blue Mountain League outfits. Biglerville opened its season with the game.

Bermudian hopped to a 13-6 lead in the first period but Dan Bushman's Cannons put on a strong rally in the third frame to deadlock the score at 31-31 and from then on until the finish it was nip and tuck.

Myers and Jim Eisenhart led the winners with 13 and 11 points, respectively. Bill Bonish of Biglerville was the top scorer of the evening with 18.

Biglerville salvaged part of the program by taking the preliminary 22-21.

Bermudian will play at Dover next Tuesday while Biglerville meets Littlestown Friday evening at Biglerville.

Griffith is heading home with victory

LONDON (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith heads for New York today with another easy victory over a Briton, another fat purse and a minor gripe over officiating.

The 26-year-old New Yorker floored Dave Charnley three times in stopping the British lightweight champion in 1:56 of the ninth round of a non-title 10-round at Wembley's indoor stadium.

Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands, completely outclassed his lighter, 29-year-old opponent.

COLLECTS $20,000

For his efforts — which were booed at times by the crowd of about 8,000 — Griffith collected about $20,000. Only last Sept. 22 he earned $56,000 in the same arena for soundly drubbing Welshman Brian Curvis in a 15-round title defense.

The husky, hard-hitting world champion dropped the left-handed Briton twice in the third round — for a count of eight and a no-count at the bell — and for nine with a holting left hook to the jaw in the ninth round.

When Charnley, bleeding from cuts under both eyes, staggered

NEW OXFORD 5 EASY VICTOR IN FIRST GAME

New Oxford High School's cagers got off to a good start in the new season by whipping South Western 65-46 Tuesday evening on the Mustangs' floor.

The Colonials jumped out to a 16-10 lead in the first quarter and, after being held on fairly even terms during the next two stanzas, finished strong with 22 points in the last period to win easily.

Jock Sneddon was the big gun for the winners with 26 tallies, including 12 of 15 foul conversions. John Summers added 12. South Western was paced by Phil Stern and Mike Wildasin with 13 and 11.

The New Oxford Jayvees also won the opening game 31-22.

Friday night New Oxford will entertain Dover.

PASTRANO AND WALKER TO GET BOXING HONORS

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Walker, one of the swashbuckling sports idols of the Golden Twenties, and light-heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano were selected today to receive two of boxing's most prized awards.

Walker, the 63-year-old former welterweight and middleweight champion who feared no one and took on heavyweights, was chosen for the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service to boxing." He is a member of Boxing's Hall of Fame.

Pastrano, the 29-year-old king of the 175-pound division, was picked for the Edward J. Neil award as the Boxing Writers' Association's Fighter of the Year.

WAS "TOY BULLDOG"

The BWA's two major awards will be presented at the organization's 39th annual dinner at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, Sunday, Jan. 17.

Tagged the "Toy Bulldog" back in the Golden Twenties, Walker held the welterweight title from Nov. 1, 1922, to May 20, 1926, and the middleweight crown from Dec. 3, 1922 to June 19, 1931.

The Ring Record book credits Walker with 148 fights, including 93 victories, 18 defeats and four draws. He also had 32 no-decision bouts and one called no contest. He scored 58 knockouts.

Pastrano, a pro since 1951, won the light heavyweight crown from Harold Johnson 18 months ago.

He has scored only 13 knockouts, mostly TKO's, in compiling a 63-12-8 won-lost-draw record. He has been stopped only once, on cuts by heavyweight Brian London.

ATTEND LUNCHEON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Among American Olympic medal winners who attended a luncheon at the White House Tuesday were six Pennsylvanians.

They were Stanley F. Cwikelinski, Joseph Frazier and Robert Zimonyi, all of Philadelphia; James W. Moore of Erie, Marsha Randall of Wayne, and Carl Robie of Drexel Hill.

to his feet after the third knockdown, referee Frank Wilson ended the slaughter.

SEVERAL WARNINGS

Griffith had won seven of the eight completed rounds on the Associated Press' scorecard.

Griffith was warned several times for hitting low and butting with his head. Charnley also was warned. The crowd booed every time Griffith was warned.

"I'm going to complain to the British Boxing Board of Control," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager. "I was so worried that Emile might get disqualified if I told him not to hit Charnley lower than his chin."

"I'm hurt about the boozing," said Griffith. "I wanted to please the fans. I got scared to throw punches because everything I did seemed to be wrong in the eyes of the referee."

High School Grid Squads Given Dinner By Boosters Club; "Rip" Engle Speaker

Four outstanding qualities football players can learn were outlined by Charles "Rip" Engle, head football coach at Penn State University, who was the guest speaker at the banquet given for the Gettysburg High School varsity and junior varsity squads Tuesday evening at the Elks home.

The banquet, sponsored by the Boosters Club, was attended by 110 persons.

Engle cited discipline, courage, learning to give and learning to become good competitors as prime qualities players may acquire on the football field.

Abiding by the rules, both physically and mentally, gives athletes proper discipline, said the speaker, as they learn to react correctly in making sacrifices. The gridiron is the best place to learn courage and again mental and physical aspects are involved.

Athletes must learn to give of their time and efforts while earning the respect of their teammates as the opponents, and lastly, Engle added, probably the most important is becoming a great competitor while accepting challenges in the face of adversity.

Engle opened his talk with a clever and humorous description as a player at the now defunct Blue Ridge College at New Windsor, Md.

BREAM PRESIDES

Henry T. Bream, athletic director at Gettysburg College, presided as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Rev. Dr. Robert Koons, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church.

Among those introduced were Richard Finkhoner, president of the Booster Club.

JURGENSEN, STARR TIED FOR NFL LEAD

NEW YORK (AP) — If Sonny Jurgensen had been healthy all year, the Washington Redskins might have been in the thick of the race in the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

Jurgensen missed the pre-season exhibitions because of an injury and had to take over a new club under the pressure of regular season. It took time to learn the habits of his new receivers after spending years at Philadelphia.

The former Duke star hit big Sunday with 319 yards against the New York Giants. It was his third 300-plus day of the season. The Redskins have won seven of their last eight games.

Government Claims Higher Living Cost Not Inflation

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living continues to rise but the government assures us that this isn't inflation.

This can be confusing to multitudes of Americans who look upon inflation in terms of consumer prices. When the cost of goods and services goes up they call it inflation. Or, put the other way around, when the dollar buys less than last year, to them that's inflation.

But government economists are saying, with considerable evidence to back them up, that times are different now and so are the terms to describe conditions.

PART OF UPSWING

The real inflation took place during and after the war. It was considerable and painful. Today's slow if steady creep of living costs to higher ground is just part of the continuing upswing of business activity, of personal incomes, of general prosperity. Everything is bigger, but not inflated.

The same thinking applies to the current attitude toward business cycles. The economists are saying that wide and often sharp swings up and down were the traditional marks of an economy adjusting itself after a war. Today's peacetime one is different and the causes of former overheated rises and disturbing tumbles aren't present now or have little punch.

GENERAL PROSPERITY

All of this also is tied into the new thinking on federal financing which will influence the budget now taking shape. Taxes can be cut when the Treasury is running a deficit, and the economy will be healthier for it. The federal debt will rise, and the annual interest on it, but the general prosperity makes up for it.

The cost of living, as measured by the government's consumer price index, rose on almost all fronts in October to hit a record 108.5 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This was .2 per cent higher than in October 1963. But the rise held within the range that has characterized it for most of the last four years. The government expects the rise to continue at about the same rate the rest of this year. The index means that it takes $108.50 now to buy what you could get for $100 in the 1957-59 period.

It is the steadiness of the rate of rise as much as the smallness of it that comforts the economists. To them inflation is something sharp and marked implies real deterioration in the purchasing power of the dollar.

But in the current type of rising cost of living there is no general increase in prices, just an advance in some and a drop in others, marked up charges here and there for services.

Business is still too competitive for any general price rise to have developed in recent months. Industry is expanding, but there is still enough idle capacity to prevent any shortage of goods or crimping of services.

Labor costs are going up, but so is the efficiency of making goods, so that unit costs stay remarkably stable. The number of unemployed also acts as a governor on the demands of labor, especially in the lower skilled fields.

All of this could change, and then there would be a chance for inflation of the size and speed that broke out several times in the postwar years. But just now, the economists insist, there are few signs that it will—and many indications that it won't for some time to come.

It comes in its own box.

There has to be a little Scrooge in you to give a Volkswagen Station Wagon for Christmas. Because when you open it up, it's just a big, empty box.

It has nearly twice the room as conventional Wagons that don't look like boxes.

It holds 9 conventional adults or who-knows-how-many unconventional kids.

Or you can put a 40-foot Christmas tree right through the hole in the roof.

You can carry 170 cubic feet of snow or go skiing with the skis inside.

At this time of year, you'll enjoy the VW's firm traction. (The engine is in back, over the drive wheels.)

And you'll never spend a dime on antifreeze; the engine is air-cooled. (Which also means it can't boil over next summer.)

There are a few other tight-listed items you'll go for: 35,000 miles on a set of tires, better than 20 mpg and hardly any oil between changes.

Let us hear from you, Scrooge.

Malaysians Sink Indonesian Boat

SINGAPORE (AP) — A Malaysian navy patrol boat shot and sank a motorized sampan carrying nine heavily armed Indonesians early Tuesday, a navy spokesman reported.

He said one Indonesian was killed and his body recovered. Three others, including one seriously wounded, were taken prisoner. The other five were presumed drowned.

GIRL SERIOUS AFTER ATTACK

SUMNEYTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 16-year-old girl is in serious condition and her alleged attacker ordered held in $15,000 bail after what police say was an attempted rape and shooting in Montgomery County.

Edward Brinckman, 24, of Pennsburg, was charged Monday with assault with intent to ravish, assault with intent to kill and wantonly pointing a firearm.

He appeared at a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. Russell Brode of Sumneytown, who said further hearings will depend on the girl's condition.

The girl, Karen Hamm, of nearby Green Lane R. D. 1, was in serious condition in Grandview Hospital, Sellersville, with bullet wounds in the chest and left cheek.

Police said she was approached by Brinckman Saturday while he was squirrel hunting near Green Lane.

Police quoted the victim as saying Brinckman shot her in the chest when she resisted him, then shot her again as she tried to run away.

The girl managed to get home, about a mile away, before collapsing, police said.

"When he bends down to pick up the next little girl, Jimmy, you sneak up behind him and put this tack in his chair. I double-dog dare you."

"You ought to have had better sense than to eat a garlic bread sandwich, Roscoe. I'm afraid I'll have to dock you half a day's pay. The kids won't come within a mile of you now."

Adams County Climbs To Top In State In Apple, Peach, Pear, Cherry Yield

Adams County is now No. 1 in Pennsylvania in apple, peach, pear and sour cherry production.

Long the top fruit county in the state in apples, sour cherry and pears, the county reached the top rung this year in peach—taking the title from Franklin County which had long held the No. 1 position in that fruit.

Adams County has only an 890 lead in the number of peach trees—a lead that could be overcome by one fruit grower in Franklin setting out a few more acres.

However the figures show that Adams assumption of the peach plantings title came about not so much by increased planting here, as by a great decrease in the peach tree population in Franklin County. A decade ago Adams County had 195,765 peach trees. Now it has 234,724 or about 39,000 more than in 1954. Franklin on the other hand had 402,075 peach trees 10 years ago and 233,834 now.

FEWER GROWERS

While peach production has advanced in Adams County in the last decade, that increase is nowhere near the explosion in apple plantings—which was accompanied by a decrease in the number of fruitgrowers.

A decade ago Adams County was listed as having 224 apple orchards containing 290,316 trees. The 1964 survey by the state shows the number of apple growers in Adams County has declined during the 10 years to 185, while the number of apple trees has increased to 599,519, an increase of 219,203 trees.

SAFE LEAD IN CHERRIES

Adams County is going to continue to be "the" sour cherry county for a long time to come, according to the state's 1964 fruit tree survey although the numbers of sour cherry trees have declined in the county. In 1953 Adams County had 174 sour cherry orchard owners, with 220,697 trees. By 1957 the number of orchards had increased to 181 and the number of trees to 232,163. But the last seven years have told a different tale. Currently, Adams has 134 sour cherry orchards with 169,819 trees—a decline in seven years of 47 orchards and 62,344 trees.

But badly as Adams County's sour cherry numbers declined, Erie County—Adams' only rival in the sour cherry field, has declined even more. In 1953 there were 180 growers with 148,511 trees in Erie County. Today there are 102 growers with 80,581. The picture for Erie looks even bleaker in the future.

Where Adams Countians planted 3,175 sour cherry trees in 1963, Erie planted only 538. Where Adams Countians planted 10,568 two years ago, Erie planted 444. Where Adams County has 11,922 trees between the ages of three and four years, Erie has only 2,574; where Adams County has 29,168 trees from five to nine years of age, Erie has only 4,332. In the 10-to-14-year age group, Erie has 20,301 trees, Adams 37,871. In the 15 to 19-year class, Adams has 47,046 and Erie 28,301. In the 20-year and above trees Adams has 20,069 and Erie has 23,588.

PEACHES ARE YOUNG

Approximately one-half of Adams County peach trees are less than 10 years of age. The state report shows Adams planted 14,333 trees last year, 27,793 in 1962, 27,523 in 1960-61 and 50,765 in 1955-59.

At the same time Franklin

County planted 9,232 trees last year, 20,707 in 1962 and only 9,015 in 1960-61. In the five years from 1955 to 1959 Franklin County planted 71,916 trees.

Franklin County has larger peach orchards than Adams County, as a general rule. It has a total of 74 peach growers, compared to 145 in Adams County.

Fifteen of its growers have over

5,000 peach trees compared to five Adams County growers with more than 5,000 trees.

Harrisburg To Boost City Tax

HARRISBURG (AP) — City Council plans to increase real estate and occupational privilege taxes in the state capital as a means of financing a record high budget of $4,966,525 for 1965.

The council unveiled the budget Monday and set final approval for Dec. 29. The spending program is for the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1.

The budget, an increase of $364,210 over that of 1964, would be balanced by a one mill boost in property taxes and by doubling the occupational privilege tax.

The tax increases would pro-

ARREST TWO AS THIEVES PRIOR TO SENTENCING

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of three men accused of executing the biggest jewel robbery in the history of Atlantic City, N.J., were arrested here Monday just before they were sentenced to prison for another crime.

Consequently, the two may not stand trial in Atlantic City with seven other men indicted in connection with the Oct. 27, half-million dollar holdup of Yamron's Jewelry Store.

Charles Kasselman, 56, of Aura, N.J., and William Charles Davis, 22, of Philadelphia, were arrested by FBI agents as they entered the lobby of the U.S. Courthouse to appear for sentencing.

PLEADED GUILTY

Earlier this year, they and three other men had pleaded guilty to conspiring to possess $150,000 worth of cigars from a trailer stolen a year ago at a truck terminal in Philadelphia.

Kasselman and Davis were taken into custody on federal warrants charging them with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the jewel robbery.

After their arrest, they appeared before Judge Thomas F. Murphy, who sentenced Kasselman to eight years in prison and Davis to five years.

In Atlantic City, prosecutor Augustine A. Repetto indicated the state would follow what he called the normal procedure of filing detainers against the two and waiting until their federal terms are completed before bringing them to trial.

Kasselman, Davis and Constantine Poulopoulos, 37, of Philadelphia, are charged in an Atlantic County indictment with the actual holdup of the Yamron store's manager and with kidnaping him.

All three programs, demonstrated anew the miracle of television: three treats, each of a different and special character, brought into our living rooms in one evening between dessert and bedtime.

The next time such dour reflections occupy this viewer's mind, I shall recall Monday night's programs.

For one hour early in the evening we were treated to an enchanting concert by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, enlivened by the comments of conductor Leonard Bernstein.

JULIE DELIGHTFUL

A short time later, Andy Williams turned up on his own program with delightful Julie Andrews in tow and there followed a happy 60 minutes of tuneful music and gentle good humor.

Finally there was an hour's appreciation of Sir Winston Churchill as a statesman but primarily as a Sunday painter. It included absolutely stunning color photography of the British countryside, interiors of Churchill's great house, Chartwell, and the Riviera seacoast.

For all that glorious photography, "The Other World of Winston Churchill" had its problems. Churchill at 90 is a very large subject and the program never seemed able to go in any one direction for long.

KRONENBERG'S

CONGO'S 1ST COLLEGE GRAD FIGHTS WEST

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — In the safety of the Kenyan capital, the Congo's first college graduate is developing a widespread campaign against Western influence in his turbulent homeland.

Thomas Kanza, polite, suave "foreign minister" of the rebel regime of Christophe Gbenye, appears to have won the first round of his battle.

The special commission on the Congo of the Organization of African Unity has condemned American and Belgian intervention to save white hostages in rebel areas.

ONLY AUDIBLE VOICE

It called for a summit meeting of African chiefs of state on the Congo and proposed a series of steps which ultimately would limit the power of the Leopoldville government of Premier Moise Tshombe.

At this stage, Kanza is the only leader of the left-leaning nationalist revolt whose voice can be heard outside the war-swept jungle of the northeast Congo.

He has utilized it fully, playing on Africa's distrust of Tshombe, frequently described here as a "lackey of imperialism" and "too of colonialists."

STRONG NATIONALISM

Against Tshombe's theory that order in the Congo can be restored only with the help of whites, Kanza presented his own — that African nationalism with Communist backing will sooner or later triumph.

Informed sources say his arguments fell on fertile ground among restive politicians of Africa.

Failure by the West to win any decisive victories in Africa has strengthened Kanza's arguments. Africa's susceptibility for extremism, its feeling of

PICK BERGER FOR TAYLOR'S SENATE POST

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sen.

James S. Berger, R-Potter, was sworn in to his sixth term in the Senate today and immediately assumed the role of acting president pro tempore.

Berger, 62, Monday had been nominated by the Republican caucus for the president pro tempore job on a full-time basis when the Senate reorganized Jan. 5.

Since the GOP will hold at least a four-vote edge in the 1963 session, Berger is virtually assured of election to the Senate's highest post, succeeding Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, R-Dauphin.

Taylor, 88, was defeated for re-nomination in the spring primarily after serving in the Senate since 1941.

BERGER SWORN IN

Berger was sworn in as a senator shortly after midnight by Judge R. Dixon Herman of Dauphin County Court. About 50 persons, including the senator's wife and Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, attended the ceremony in the Senate chamber.

Berger said afterward he looked for a busy Senate session next year and pointed to reapportionment as one of the top items on the agenda.

NO MAJOR DIFFICULTIES

Pennsylvania's 1963 reapportionment law was upset by the State Supreme Court and a new one must be drawn up in the next session.

Berger was asked if he felt a divided legislature would provide any difficulties in the enactment of major legislation. The Democrats gained control of the House of Representatives in the November election.

"It's always necessary to compromise on many things when you have a divided legislature," he said, "but I don't foresee any major difficulties."

OTHER POSTS FILLED

Other leadership posts filled by the Republican caucus were Sen. Stanley G. Stroup, Bedford County, to succeed Berger as majority leader; Sen. Albert R. Pechan, Armstrong, re-elected as majority whip; Sen. William Z. Scott, Carbon, caucus chairman, and Sen. John T. Van Sant, Lehigh, caucus secretary.

There were 25 of the 27 elected Republican senators present for the caucus. Absent were Sens. Rowland B. Mahany, Crawford, and John F. Ware, Chester.

The only office contested was that of president pro tempore with Sen. George N. Wade, Cumberland, as Berger's opponent. The caucus vote was not announced.

CONTROLS 117 JOBS

Wade did not appear to be ruffled by the outcome.

"We have good leadership," he said afterwards. "We'll be united in the Senate. There are no hard feelings."

The office of the president pro tempore is the most valued and powerful position in the Senate.

The office holder has 117 Senate jobs answerable to him alone.

GETS EXTRA PAY

He also is paid double the $9,000 annual compensation for a senator and has $8,100 in un-audited expense funds at his hands.

His real power lies in control of Senate committees. He selects all committee chairmen, and the chairmen, in turn, have the power to kill or advance legislation to the floor.

In succeeding Taylor, Berger replaces a man who had served as president pro tempore for 18 years and became known as the

MAN CAN KEEP LION IN YARD

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP) — Howard Sauter has won the first round in his battle to keep his pet lion, Leo.

But the war isn't over.

The Department of Public Safety in Abington Township decided at a meeting Monday night that the 300-pound lion can stay in Sauter's backyard.

At the same time, however, the board told the township solicitor to work up an ordinance forbidding the keeping of wild most single powerful member in the chamber.

Sauter undoubtedly would have been in line for the post had he not been upset by William B. Lentz, a political unknown, in the Dauphin County Republican primary last April.

Sauter said he has a counter-petition signed by 350 persons in favor of his keeping Leo in the backyard.

Sauter said he put up a $1,000 bond, guaranteeing Leo will not roar any more.

MERCHANTS HIT BY MOVIE BAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Downtown merchants are feeling the pinch of a labor dispute that has kept two-thirds of San Francisco's movie houses closed for nearly three weeks.

Hard hit by the theater shutdown are restaurants and bookstores, cigar stands and taverns.

Merchants who depend on movie-goers for a healthy portion of their nocturnal trade report business dropoffs of up to 50 per cent.

inferiority toward the former colonizers and desire to "get even" with them have further played into Kanza's hands.

"JUST AS GUILTY"

What remains to be seen is whether the meeting of Africa's leaders can launch an effective campaign against Tshombe's regime which is backed by the United States and Belgium.

Hitherto, this backing has seldom been total. The recent history of Africa has shown that half measures seldom succeed on this continent.

"If the Belgians and Americans want to win the war in the Congo, why don't they throw thousands of troops into the battle?" asked a Kenyan official. "In the eyes of independent Africa they would be just as guilty as for launching 600 paratroopers who have not won anything."

SEE "AGGRESSION"

Most Africans fail to see the humanitarian aspect of the paratroop rescue operation. To them it was a case of "Western aggression" with the resulting blow to U.S. prestige.

Reports from the Congo's battle regions speak of continuing fighting between Tshombe's forces and rebel "simbas" — lions.

Any loss of ground by the central government's task force spearheaded by white mercenaries is bound to strengthen Kanza's position.

LOUVAIN GRADUATE

A graduate of Louvain University in Belgium in 1956, Kanza was the first Congolese to obtain a university degree. Later he studied at Bruges and Harvard Universities.

An associate of the late Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, Kanza served the Cyrille Adoula regime as an ambassador to London and to the United Nations.

After a bitter quarrel with Tshombe over the use of white mercenaries and advisers, Kanza joined the Stanleyville rebels and became their spokesman abroad.

CRITIC CLAIMS MOVIES LACK SENSE OF ART

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Are movies going to pieces?" asks an article in the Atlantic Monthly by Pauline Kael, who proceeds to answer, "yes."

Miss Kael, who is billed as an author, lecturer and authority on films, criticizes the growing lack of logic in movies, even the most expensive ones. She cites the swift and unexplained ending of "Bridge on the River Kwai"; the garbled plot of "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane"; the utter confusion of "55 Days at Peking"; the sudden clairvoyance of Cleopatra in the film of that name; the puzzling story turns of "The Cardinal."

"Audiences used to have an almost rational passion for getting the story straight," writes the critic. "Although the movies might be banal or vulgar, they were rarely incoherent. A movie had to tell some story that held together; a plot had to parse."

"ARTISTIC" LOOK

She concludes: "Movies are going to pieces; they are disintegrating, and the something called cinema is not movies raised to an art but rather movies diminished, movies that look 'artistic.' Movies are being stripped of all the 'nonessentials' — that is to say, faces, action, details, stories, places, everything that makes them entertaining and joyful."

She's right, you know. The one thing that impresses a reviewer who sees the major output of the studios is the sloppiness of the product. Today's films are filled with incongruities, pointless jokes, technical errors, and anachronisms that any bright 11th-grade English student could correct in the script.

BAKED CHICKEN TERIYAKI

1 broiler-fryer, cut up
1/4 cup each soy sauce and lemon juice

1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons sugar

1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate

1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

Wash and dry chicken. Stir together the remaining ingredients until sugar is dissolved; pour over chicken in a shallow container; allow to stand at room temperature for about 1 hour, turning often. Remove chicken from marinade and place in a shallow foil-lined baking pan into which pieces just fit in one layer. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until tender — about 45 to 60 minutes — turning as necessary and basting with the marinade.

Kandt, a veteran of the state court bench, said hiring the attractive blonde is a practical solution to his growing need for a secretary and receptionist.

State law permits him to hire only a court reporter and a bailiff.

"The court reporter is not always available for office work, so the thought developed to merge the office of bailiff into two or three jobs," he explained.

Mrs. Steele, legal secretary, will serve the judge as bailiff, secretary, receptionist, probation officer, domestic relations investigator, deputy sheriff and clerk. She also will take charge of the courtroom and of any jury in Kandt's court.

The Steeles moved here recently from Dallas, Tex. He is an industrial water-treatment specialist.

NEEDS WOMAN'S TOUCH

"The judge called me about the job," she said. "I think he learned of me through mutual friends. I think there's a need for the woman's touch in a judge's chambers."

She worked as a secretary to a chemistry professor while studying business law at Southern Methodist University. Between classes, on weekends and between office jobs, she worked as a fashion model.

Mrs. Steele joked about taking judo lessons and noted that her height helps in demanding respect.

"I'm 5-feet, 10 1/2 inches barefoot," she said. "Sometimes high heels make me about 6 feet, 1-inch."

Kandt assured her she won't need any judo.

"The availability of deputies and police officers make it unnecessary for her to escort people to and from jail," he said.

"She may, on occasion, have charge of people waiting to come into court."

FORMER MODEL NAMED BAILIFF IN CITY COURT

court bench, said hiring the attractive blonde is a practical solution to his growing need for a secretary and receptionist.

State law permits him to hire only a court reporter and a bailiff.

"The court reporter is not always available for office work, so the thought developed to merge the office of bailiff into two or three jobs," he explained.

Mrs. Steele, legal secretary, will serve the judge as bailiff, secretary, receptionist, probation officer, domestic relations investigator, deputy sheriff and clerk. She also will take charge of the courtroom and of any jury in Kandt's court.

The Steeles moved here recently from Dallas, Tex. He is an industrial water-treatment specialist.

NEEDS WOMAN'S TOUCH

"The judge called me about the job," she said. "I think he learned of me through mutual friends. I think there's a need for the woman's touch in a judge's chambers."

She worked as a secretary to a chemistry professor while studying business law at Southern Methodist University. Between classes, on weekends and between office jobs, she worked as a fashion model.

Mrs. Steele joked about taking judo lessons and noted that her height helps in demanding respect.

"I'm 5-feet, 10 1/2 inches barefoot," she said. "Sometimes high heels make me about 6 feet, 1-inch."

Kandt assured her she won't need any judo.

"The availability of deputies and police officers make it unnecessary for her to escort people to and from jail," he said.

"She may, on occasion, have charge of people waiting to come into court."

Paralyzing

Sections of U.S. 1 were clogged by snow or by traffic jams of up to 50 cars and trucks.

Off Nova Scotia, near Halifax, the 3,800-ton Liberian freighter Fury was driven aground by winds estimated as high as 90 m.p.h. and high waves.

The Fury, with 18 men aboard, was tossed about so vigorously that she lost several lifeboats and both anchors.

RESCUE VESSELS

Rescue ships struggled through the storm-tossed seas to reach the disabled craft.

Another craft, the fishing vessel, the Friars, out of New Bedford, Mass., was buffeted by the high seas some 90 miles southeast of Nantucket Island, off the Massachusetts coast. A Coast Guard rescue ship reached her side and stood by to help as the Friars struggled toward port.

Snow covers outside Maine ranged up to 18 inches in sections of the Great Lakes and amounts measured nearly a foot in eastern Montana. Snow continued during the night and early morning in much of the Midwest.

Subzero readings were reported in parts of the Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana, and Michigan.

A "Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration" is held the first week of September each year at Shelbyville, Tenn.

Wedding

Clark—Griffie

Miss Janet Irene Griffie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Griffie, Gardners R. 2, and Barry Lee Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Dick, Carlisle R. 5, were married recently in the parsonage of the Alliance Church, Carlisle. The Rev. Wilbur J. Dearfield, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Orndorff—Overbaugh

Miss Patricia Jean Overbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Overbaugh, Hanover, and Donald Francis Orndorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger G. Orndorff, Littlestown R. 1, were married Saturday at 11 a.m. at a Nuptial Mass in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Hanover. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert C. Grubb, administrator.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The maid of honor was Miss Patricia Keffer, McSherrystown.

The bridegroom's brother, Roger Luis Orndorff, Littlestown R. 1, served as best man while two other brothers, C. Robert and Thomas E. Orndorff, were ushers.

Joyce M. Overbaugh, McSherrystown, a cousin of the bride, was vocal. She was accompanied by Mrs. Francis Quigley, organist, who also played the traditional wedding melodies.

Approximately 130 guests attended a reception at the Midway Fire Company hall. The couple will reside at 112 Stock St., Hanover.

Peron and his lieutenants presumably have their eyes on the election March 14 for half the Congress and provincial governors. Peron's followers, although divided, can muster an estimated 20-25 per cent of the vote.

Sharks Eat Sharks In Florida Keys

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Board of Conservation is pitting shark against shark in an effort to steer them away from commercial fishing nets in the Florida keys.

Sharks are caught with heavy baited hooks and a flat board is attached to the line. The board slows the wounded shark and tires him. Other sharks, smelling blood, attack their weakened comrade.

Commercial fishermen on both the Atlantic and Gulf sides of the keys have reported uncommonly big schools of sharks tearing into their nets in search of food.

ARMED SUPPORT

"The armed forces," said Suarez, "without doubt are going to act if necessary to support the government in defense of the peace of our country."

Inspector General Roberto G. Schuller of the federal police placed infantry, mounted police and squad cars on street patrol in Buenos Aires.

The bride, a 1962 graduate of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, is employed by the United Telephone Company, Hanover. Her husband, a 1961 graduate of Littlestown High School, is a graduate of Harrisburg Barber School and is employed at Paul's Barber Shop, Mechanicsburg.

WEST GERMANS OFFER TO DROP WHEAT PRICES

By NEL SLIS
BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—West Germany offered Tuesday to lower its wheat price from $3.20 to $2.99 a bushel, effective in July 1967, if the Common Market will pay West German farmers $525 million over a three-year period to compensate for their losses.

Reaction was cool at a meeting of the six-nation bloc, which is trying to standardize grain prices and farm policies among the members. But Agriculture Minister Edgar Pisani of France, which has been forcing the issue, said "we now can start the discussions."

SHORT OF TERMS

The offer by the West German government, whose subsidized grain prices are the highest among the six, fell considerably short of meeting the terms of a suggestion by the Common Market's executive commission.

The commission had proposed a price of $2.91 a bushel, with compensation to West German farmers on falling scale beginning at $140 million for the first

West Germany's agriculture minister, Werner Schwarz, asked for the payment of $175 million a year for three years.

Ministers from other nations made plain they considered the cost of such an arrangement would be prohibitive.

WILL DEBATE MOVE

Schwarz and the West German economic minister, Kurt Schmucker, made their proposal at a meeting of the foreign and agriculture ministers of the six nations—France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and West Germany.

They agreed to hold a full-dress debate on grain prices on Dec. 14.
